Sch. Victor Also Has Fine Fare
at Boston.

Since Saturday noon several fine fares of mackerel have arrived at this port and at Boston.

Sch. Emma W. Brown came down from Boston with 200 barrels salt mackerel and sch. Gossip, Capt. Douglass McLean, arrived here from Georges with a big fare, 320 barrels of salt mackerel and 5000 fresh mackerel. Sch. S. R. Lane, Capt. At Boston this morning are two fine trips, sch. Pinta, Capt. John F. Vantier, being there with 22,000 fresh mackerel, and the old reliable Capt. Solomon Jacobs, who is always on deck when there is anything doing in the mackerel line, is there in sch. Victor with 15,000 fresh mackerel and 165 barrels salt mackerel.

Ten thousand mackerel were taken in the vicinity of St. Margarets Bay near Halifax, N. S., on Friday. The fishermen who made the catch belong to the Bay and they found a ready sale for the fish. E. M. Bontiller purchasing the whole lot. The mackerel were taken off Fox point and Croucher's island. The steamers Liberty and Ralph Smith brought the fish to Halifax and a score of men were at once set to work packing the fish in ice and barrels for shipment on the steamer Halifax Saturday for the American market.

Sch. Bertha and Pearl, Capt. Joseph Smith, stocked $5800 on her recent seining trip, the crew sharing $141.50. Sch. Bertha and Pearl is high line of the seining fleet to date with a stock of $16,000.

Her trip was caught 165 miles southeast-half-south from Eastern Point.

The fares of fresh mackerel of schs. Gossip and S. R. Lane sold to the Gloucester Fresh Fish Company at 10 cents each.

Sch. Ralph L. Hall Has a Full

Sch. Ralph L. Hall, Capt. Frank Hall, arrived this noon from Georges with a big mackerel fare, 310 barrels of salt mackerel and 5000 fresh mackerel.

BIG MAIDEN TRIP.

New Sch. Hazel R. Hines Arrived
This Morning.

Has 300,000 Pounds, Largest
Fare of the Season.

The new sch. Hazel R. Hines, Capt. Lovett Hines, arrived from her maiden trip, salt banking, this forenoon with the largest salt cod fare of the season of 300,000 pounds. Capt. Hines reports that with the exception of five and possibly six vessels that the salt bankers have done poorly and that several will make one long trip or come home with only partial fares. Bait has bothered considerably and it was necessary to pick the last caplin baiting that he took. He has been fishing on the Grand Bank lately and had not yet seen even the sign of a squid in the fish, and they are always observed this way fully a month before they can be jigged. He considers the prospect poor for big second trips on that account.

Swordfish To Split.

Sch. Two Forty came down from Boston yesterday with her fare of fresh swordfish, 50 in number. On account of there being so many in Boston, she was unable to sell her fare fresh and brought it here to be sold to split. The trip was bought by Shute & Merchant. This is the first swordfish trip which has come here to go to the splitters for seven years.

WATCHING SHARP.

Capt. Hines Says Newfoundland
Officials Want Home Bait Preference.

Capt. Lovett Hines, of the salt banker Hazel R. Hines, who has been previously reported to have been fined $400 for violation of the Newfoundland custom regulations, was asked about the occurrence by a TIMES representative this forenoon.

He said that he had been fined while at Newfoundland on the trip just completed, but that he did not have to pay so large an amount as $400. The trouble he claimed was that the Newfoundland officials were jealous of the Yankee fishermen. These officials wanted the men who catch bait to supply their own bankers first, but it was generally the other way; that the Yankee craft, who were willing to pay well for bait, would get served and the home vessels would have to wait. This, he said, angered the officials and they were constantly on the lookout for a chance to catch the Yankee bankers in some trifling misdemeanor.

Capt. Hines claimed that where the American vessels paid tonnage and light dues both, the officials had no right to attempt to have their own vessels supplied first with bait and let the American craft wait.

Bank Cod Sale.

The fare of sch. Hazel R. Hines has sold to Reed & Gamage at Board of Trade prices.

KINDLY ACT.

Steamer Olivette Stopped to Supply Banker with Water.

Capt. Forbes Appreciated Kindness of Capt. Turner.

Capt. Hiram Forbes of the salt banking sch. W. E. Morrissey, which arrived this morning tells of a kindly act on the part of Capt. Turner of the steamer Olivette, bound from Boston to Halifax.

The Morrissey was bound home and for a day had been entirely out of water. On Sunday, the first craft which Morrissey had sighted since the water gave out, hove in view. It was a steamer and she was ploughing right along. Capt. Forbes and his men needed water and would have tried to stop her if she had been an ocean liner, carrying the mail, so they set the signal as the craft came near and she quickly stopped.

A dory was sent on board and the wants of the vessel made known, and Capt. Turner responded by giving them a goodly supply of aqua pura, and then inquired if there was anything else he could do for them. On being told that water was all they wanted, he gave them a liberal supply of fruit and sent them back to the vessel rejoicing, while he steamed away for Halifax.

Capt. Forbes and his men appreciated Capt. Turner's kindness very much and thanked him accordingly.

Capt. Forbes as usual has a big fare, one of the best of the season, 300,000 pounds of salt cod. He always does well and this trip is no exception.

A Fish With Hands.

Zoologists have long regarded the fish which remains for days out of water and climbs trees as one of the strangest departures from nature, but the most wonderful of these is the periphalma of the west African coast. It not only is at much at home on land as in water, but climbs the mangrove roots and takes long journeys about the swamps on them and builds itself mud houses raised above the surface, with an opening at the top, from which its bulging eyes stare out at every alarm. For this life the fish is fitted with long arms, with elbow and wrist, while the fingers are separated and prehensile, instead of being flat and finlike. These hands in the African species hold the mangrove roots in climbing and are the means of propulsion through the mud. The round eyes project from the skull and can be turned in every direction; hence the Greek name, which may be freely translated "rolling eyes."

Horace B. Parker, Capt. Jeremiah Gayton, 230,000 pounds, and sch. Margaret of Beverly, 200,000 pounds. All report no sign of squid on the bank.
